

THE PERFECT PATH TO

NOMINATION SCHOLARSHIPS

TAKE THE INITIATIVE

Talk to your high school counselor in fall of junior year to see if there are "by nomination only" scholarships that fit your strengths and interests. A few require nomination in spring of junior year so don't procrastinate.

NEEDS-BASED

Ask your high school counselor to help you navigate the application process for College Prep Scholars (spring of junior year) and/or National College Match (late summer after junior year) for Questbridge Scholarships. Your counselor can also connect you with programs like Posse Scholarships, Jack Kent Cooke Scholarships and Terry Foundation Scholarships

SPRING JUNIOR YEAR

- Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Medal - recognizes strong STEM students; must be nominated by high school counselor in spring of junior year (worth $30,000 per year)
- Wofford College -- Wofford Scholars gives students the opportunity to compete for scholarships ranging from $10,000 per year to a full ride!

EARLY FALL SENIOR YEAR

- Davidson College (September) - Belk and Bryant scholarships require nomination from high school counselors
- UNC-Charlotte (October) - Levine Scholars requires counselor nomination or self-nomination
- North Carolina State University (October) - Park Scholars requires counselor nomination

FALL SENIOR YEAR

- Indiana University (Nov 1) - Wells Scholars requires counselor or self-nomination
- University of Virginia (Dec 1) - Jefferson Scholars requires a high school counselor nomination
- Villanova University (Dec 1) - Presidential Scholars requires a high school counselor nomination

MERIT AID IS OUT THERE

There are many, many other scholarships -- many of which are full-cost, full-tuition, or significantly generous -- that don't require a nomination, so don't be discouraged if you aren't selected for nomination from your high school or if you aren't awarded one of these!
